Develop an Effective Go-To-Market Strategy
Marketing Manager

Scenario Walkthrough

An effective Go-to-Market (GTM) strategy requires teamwork and communication to build successful product and service launches. Documentation must be findable and easily updated, and accessible to all team members, both internally and externally. The Marketing Manager needs to communicate with the regional team to analyze purchase trends, coordinate the creation of a marketing plan, and send it for approval. Teams enables her to track work items and ensures delivery of a viable and successful strategy.

- Attends and records a channel meeting with the regional marketing team members to discuss the task at hand.
- Shares a survey with the team to analyze market trends using Forms.
- Reviews a dashboard showing the purchase trends for the last quarter using Power BI.
- Creates and shares a PowerPoint presentation with a new marketing strategy based on the survey results.
- Receives an approval from the Finance Manager on the marketing budget.

How did Microsoft Teams help the Marketing Manager execute her roles and responsibilities?

- Microsoft Stream enables live streaming and video on demand (VOD) for team meetings, events and training.
- Get real-time feedback with quizzes, polls, and pre-built surveys with Forms.
- Create and analyze data with rich visual representations using Power BI.
- Build reports, documents, and presentations online in the cloud with PowerPoint.

Conversations, action items and relevant documents shared in the meeting thread are accessible right inside Teams. The Marketing Manager spells out the plan and offers discussion points to facilitate structured conversation.

Meeting objective:
To present the finalized marketing plan to the team. To identify process owners for the various roles within.

Discussion Points:
1. Retail managers and FWL will play a crucial role in making customers aware of these new stores and they will need all the information about these stores as soon as possible.

2. Audience analysis is in progress and marketing plans may have to be customized to suit the audience.

3. Process owners for the plan are identified and the team members. The tasks are divided across email marketing, social media management, art and visual collateral, website and blogs, customer service and FLW.
